

Overview

We have a team of lawyers with broad expertise in the oil and gas industry who advise clients on bidding and negotiating for oil and gas contracts. We negotiate contracts on behalf of clients and draft joint operating agreements, shareholders' agreements, farm-in and farm-out agreements, intellectual property ownership agreements, drilling and rig agreements, regional pipeline and refinery agreements, oil and gas trading, licensing agreements, and health and safety agreements. Some of our longstanding clients are stakeholders in the mining sector both locally and internationally. We also specialize in litigation and have particular experience in arbitration in disputes over natural resources.

Representative Experience

- Confidential client: Advised an African focused strategic minerals exploration and development company in respect of its Niobium Mining Project in Kenya
- Confidential client: Advised an exploration company on their gold mining operations in Kenya including advice on raising of capital in Kenya, review of subscription documents to ensure compliance with Kenyan law setting up a local entity to carry out mining and advised on supply contracts with several contractors.
- Various Clients: Advised various companies on concession rights, land disputes and mineral rights.
- Advised on a World-Bank-funded institutional review of all petroleum and non-petroleum institutions involved in the oil and gas sector in Kenya. This study was significant as it sought to identify gaps and weaknesses in the institutional framework governing the oil and gas sector and provide the requisite solutions.
